FALL FIELD DAY 2011 Pineland Plantation

Pineland Plantation is one of the largest of the premier quail plantations in the Albany Area and sports some of the best quail hunting in the world. With frequently burned pine uplands and fields encompassing 20,000 acres, Pineland's sheer size presents unique management challenges – brood habitat alone requires harrowing 3,000 acres each year! However, with a state-of-the-art management program and attention to detail, Pineland has averaged over 7 coveys per hour hunting during the last 15 years! Pineland is also home to the Albany Quail Project, which is celebrating 20 years of research and conservation. Come enjoy the day and hear of the knowledge gained from collaboration among researchers and managers that has helped to define modern quail management in the Southeast, resulted in dozens of publications, and produce a lot of birds!

Directions to Pineland

The entrance to Pineland is located on highway 91, also called 'Newton Road', about 6 miles north of the town of Newton, Georgia. From Tallahassee follow 19N to Camilla and take HWY 37 toward Newton. At Newton turn right on 91 and go approximately 6 miles to entrance of Pineland plantation. From Albany follow 91 south past the airport and follow to the entrance of Pineland. Signs will be posted at the entrance for the event.
